

UDAYAN ~ the Oxfordshire Bengali Cultural Society presents
A musical evening to celebrate

Bande Mataram

the 60th Anniversary of the Indian Independence

This is a Fund Raising Event for the Children's Hospital, Oxford,
Registered Charity No.
1057295.

উদয়ান

UDAYAN aims to promote Bengali culture and literature in Oxfordshire. We endeavour to integrate Bengali and Western values by organising social and cultural events involving people from both communities to celebrate the diversity.

A Tribute to Mother India BANDE MATARAM by UDAYAN

August 15th 1947 marked the end of the British Raj and is a landmark in the history of modern India. The first half of the programme is comprised of inspiring, soul captivating Bengali patriotic songs which stirred the nation heralding the new, independent India. In a broader perspective, these songs transcend all national barriers to symbolise the eternal quest for freedom from bondage, fear and oppression. A visual projection of English translations of the songs will accompany the live performance.

During the interval complimentary Indian snacks will be served. This will be followed by a blend of colourful and spectacular classical and regional dance of India.

Time:

Saturday, 8th December 2007, 6:30 – 9:00 PM

Venue:

Tingewick Hall, John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford OX3 9DU

Disabled access to the hall, and free parking available in the staff car park at JR

Ticket:

£10.00, Concessions £8.00 (for Children 5-18, OAP 60+ & disabled)

Tickets can be booked on-line via Udayan webpage www.udayan-oxford.org.uk

For Further information and off-line booking please contact

Joya Banerjee 01865 766344

